Millennium Cabinets

The modern kitchen is the heart of today's home. Gone are the days of the enclosed kitchen, segregated from the living spaces and relegated to its functional purposes. Whether it's an estate home or an airy loft, kitchens are now an integral part of any home's design. It's where families gather for dinner, friends laugh over wine, and everyday chefs prepare their master creations. This is why the contemporary kitchen must deliver the optimal balance of form and function.

The Millennium Difference

Our cabinet box:

A. $\frac{5}{8}$ " sides and backs. Backs are 20% to 50% thicker than our competitors', enabling easy, yet sturdy, wall mounting.

B. Dado joints combined with $\frac{5}{8}$ " construction make our drawer boxes one of the most stable in the industry.

C. Standard drawer boxes have $\frac{5}{8}$ " sides and backs with epoxy-coated metal roller guides. European steel-sided drawers, solid maple dovetail drawers, and concealed undermount soft-close guides also available.

D. An assortment of hardware styles, colors, and materials are available to personalize each home.

E. Doors and drawer fronts are offered in a variety of styles. Unlike some competitors, our raised panel doors are solid hardwood.

F. Six-way adjustable 110° clip on hinges allow easy adjustment and smooth action. Soft-close hinges also available.

G. $\frac{3}{4}$ " full depth shelves are standard.

H. Standard interiors are white for increased resilience. Other melamine finishes or finished maple interiors also available.

I. Detached $\frac{5}{8}$ " recessed toe-kicks simplify installation and provide a clean look.

J. All exposed ends are made with wood veneers and stained to match doors.

(1) We start with only the finest lumber, which is hand-sorted to complement the finish.

(2) Panels are sanded smooth, manually and by state-of-the-art sanders, starting with #110 grit and finishing with #200 grit sandpaper.

(3) Prior to staining, panels are vacuumed to eliminate dust particles.

(4) Our Rototech Automatic Spraying machine evenly applies the first coat of water-based stain.

(5) The Rototech applies a second coat of stain to enrich the wood's natural beauty.

(6) An open area on the automated line allows for minor manual adjustments for color consistency.

(7) Our environmentally-friendly wood sealer is applied using an automated reciprocating sprayer, ensuring uniform protection.

(8) For distressed finishes, distressing and sand-through are hand-applied creating a unique look for each panel.

(9) For glazed finishes, panels are hand-rubbed with glaze and wiped clean of excess.

(10) After glaze application, the product is slowly air-dried for 24 hours.

(11) Wood sealer is applied a second time using the automated reciprocating sprayer.

(12) The sealed product passes first through a hot air oven and then a high intensity UV oven to guarantee a complete cure.

(13) Panels are hand and machine sanded in preparation for the final topcoat.

(14) Our specially formulated UV topcoat is applied and any overspray is recycled, reducing any impact on the environment.

(15) Steps 13 and 14 are repeated.

(16) Each panel is individually inspected as it comes off the line to ensure our customers' high expectations are met.
